K- ADN reported on Sat in their "Palinbot Survey" that we cut nothing out of the "promised" $150million cut last year. If that's not accurate, pls correct it with ADN. Thanks

Governor/Mike:

I'll be out there as well.

On another note, I see you're meeting with AML. Mike can brief you more fully of course, but I am meeting with most FBX legislators and some Finance members today regarding AML's proposal to increase the State's share of what it is paying for PERS/TRS relief. We're doing an assessment to see if FBX's and AML's position has any support/traction among legislators who are most familiar with the issue.

When I visited Senator Stedman Friday, Cathie Wasserman and Ray Gillespie were meeting with his staff Miles Baker. Senator Stedman reaffirmed to me that he is not interested in reopening SB 125. Miles told me he said the same thing to AML.

I'll provide an update at the end of the day today as to who all I've met with to see if there's ANY support for the FBX and AML position of increasing the amount of State PERS/TRS contribution.

An employee of Dept. of Labor, Voc Rehab, apparently had a sexual encounter with a client, and the client has said she is "going to the press" with the information. See below for the account provided to me. I have not confirmed that the employee was put on leave without pay.

You may have received this information already from DOL, so I apologize for any duplication.

Hi Nicki,

I'm not sure how I missed your call today as I had my phone with me at that time. I was calling you just to let you know that Russ Cussak called me at home this morning to let me know that a voc rehab counselor from Fbx called him this morning to let him know that he had been intimate with a client and that she was planning on going to the press. I advised him to put the employee on leave without pay during the investigation. Just a heads up it case it hits the news! I'll talk to you later.

Subject: Recent Alaska Aerospace contract awards

Governor and Mike, just an update on Alaska Aerospace efforts in seeking to expand new business opportunities to increase economic development for the state.

- On January 10, 2008 AADC was awarded a competitively bid USAF Contract for $2.7 million for a Minotaur IV launch carrying Air Force Research Lab satellites scheduled December 2009.
- AADC proposed for another Minotaur IV launch carrying Navy Research Lab satellites scheduled September 2009; this contract is negotiated for $2.5 million and planned to be awarded next week.
- AADC also received a $100,000 contract to study the transportation of the launch vehicles to KLC with a potential contract award of up to $1 million additional contract per launch.
- These launches are demonstrators for the Operationally Responsive Space (ORS) concept for the Air Force, (i.e. rapid response launches).
- Existing KLC infrastructure is capable of delivering these two missions with a single launch pad even though the schedule will be tight in 2009.
- However, it will be necessary to upgrade the KLC capabilities with additional launch pad and a rocket motor storage facility to accommodate the Air Force ORS program and continue to support our current customer the Missile Defense Agency (MDA).

This is a big win for Alaska Aerospace - we are moving into the major leagues now.
